

Gebrüder Waasner Elektrotechnische Fabrik GmbH Environmental Policy

We feel duty bound to protect and conserve a liveable environment. We are, therefore, constantly looking for ways in which to improve the environment. An important foundation for innovation and technological advancement is the environmental sustainability of our products and procedures.

We see the continual improvement of our environmental aspects through processes and procedures, which is ensured by constantly setting environmental objectives, their testing and implementation through environmental programmes, as a constant task and duty for our company. We are pursuing the goal of sustainably reducing the environmental impact, the energy and resource consumption and all other environmental implications caused by our company operations through the use and disposal of our products.

We carry out all important measures for avoiding accidents which could lead to environmental damage or for keeping their effects as minimal as possible.

Using relevant environmental management, we ensure that our environmental policy is effectively implemented. The essential technical and organisational procedures for this are regularly reviewed and constantly developed. We work cooperatively with the relevant authorities.

We are committed to adhering to all environmental protection laws, regulations and other requirements which are identified by us or brought to our attention by our customers, unions or interested parties and are accepted as relevant or noteworthy for continually improving our environmental protection practices.

Environmentally conscious action is one of our employees' duties.

Creating and promoting a sense of responsibility for environmental protection on all levels and in all circles of influence is a constant task for management.

We encourage all of our contractual partners to follow a similar environmental line as us within the framework of our possibilities. All persons acting on our behalf are required to adopt our environmental policy as their own and bear the responsibility for this.

We will inform interested members of the public about our environmental policy, environmental goals, environmental programme and the environmental impact our company has upon request. We also provide our customers with advise for environmentally friendly use of our products.

To achieve this goal, we focus on offensive environmental management and strive for integrated thinking and action outside the framework of the legal regulations.

It is also a requirement for us to further develop our environmental management system through continuous improvements and to check its effectiveness within the framework of the annual environmental report.
